Capital and Surfices, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They taylte investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and bouorable dealing, they have but few equals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—flust class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and parmanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of panie, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the fled of competition, well calculated to mislead by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cach surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their cutatunding risks, the above named companies always have and keep ever and above their capital duice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidences to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a socies of years taken at less rates than can be done by Mutual Companies, and a certainty given instead of an americainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

New York Life Insurance Company, CASH CAPITAL OVER - $1,900,000 all well invested for the benefit of Policy holders, so that the profits of this vest sum pay a large proportion of their annual premiums. This is unquestionably the very best Life Company doing business in this state.

THE above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into tioir condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solvency and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but four equals, and no superiors. They are shunded upon the very best securities in the wardedfiest class bonds and mortgages upon property in New York and Brooklyn—securities that have not, for the past ten years, depreciated below par, and are every way more rollable and permanent than railroad, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and limbe, in lines of panic, as the experience of the past tenches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies entering the field of competition, well calculated to mislend by publishing partial and one-sided statements of their condition, and without a cash surplus on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above named companies always have and keep over and above their capital twice the amount, and in most instances four times, needed for the reinsurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they dain the right to look with confidence to the public for liberal patronage.

Policies issued without delay, and farms risks for a series of years taken at less rates than can be done by Muthal Companies, and a certainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

AT LARGE: WALTER D. MCINDOE, of Mornthon. BRADEOUD HIXFORD, of Winnebugo. THEST CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT:

W. W. Vaughn, of Reine. SECOND CONCRESSIONAL DISTRICT: 4. Albeit Burber, of Bunt.

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT; 11. Lindeman, of Jefferson. Mr. Lovejoy's Speech.

3 We think we cannot do a better thing, just now, than to publish the recent speech of Mr. Lovejov, of Illinois. The Potter and Pryor affair has given it additional interest. atthough his bold atterance of anti-slavery truth in the house is sufficient to cause it to be received with satisfaction by our readers without any extrancous attraction. Such a speech was needed just now to dispet the con ervative influences which were gathering around the republican party. It has that fire of excuest enthusiasm in it which will warm the hearts of the people and prepare them to see and feel that an honest and h det policy in regard to national affairs is the boot. We wish there were many more like Travejoy in the house of representatives.

The many interruptions, and the insulting remarks of the slave drivers, will show what a northern man must expect, who speaks the whole truth in relation to slavein this a sample of the freedom of speech in our actional house of representatives, and what will always take place as long as the power of slavery directs the destinies of the Country. The ropublicans mean to drive this spirit from the halls of legislation, so that the representatives of the people may Sogislate upon slavery, as upon any other question, without being compelled to endure with somes. We earnestly entreat our readers to eive this speech a thorough perusal, It is suggestive of the contest upon which so are entering, which will require every republican to imitate the bravery, coolness and determination of Lovejoy.

Foreign News.

The steamship Arago has arrived from Southampton. Warrants have been issued rowing Homan and Savers, and the magb trates are determined to prevent the light. There is a revolutionary movement on foot In Spain. Gen. Otega, with 3000 men, proclaimed Don Carlos king. The English everament will recognise the recent accuisitions of the king of Sardinia. Agricultural accounts from France are not favariatio. Austria protests against the annegations in Italy. Switzerland also proposts against the nanexation of Savoy to arises, what is the nature, what are the in been opened, and the king was received with great appliance. arrived at Washington on the 18th. There was, of course, great excitement. The Her-All Washington correspondent says that criminal, more injurious to man, and consethe two N. Such in the resultant amalgam is slaveholding. struction, it is said, have been sent from here or the leading southern senators and memcorre to the various southern delegations .-This worms to bolleate that under no circumstances will they submit to the numination or Donalas, and yet, in three of this, men are bening on his nomination against the field. It is said the Massachusets delegation, who have heretotore been considered for Dougore, will vote against him from the jump .-Unis change has been produced since they arrived in Washington. All earls of betting is going on, but the heaviest is against Douglas, and his friends frequently become desperate and lose their tomper, while the opponents of the 'Little Ginnt seem to be as happy as clams at high water. The contest between the two delesations from Illinois is quite amusing. The * nationals,' so called, clearly have the inside wack, and bet their money, first that Douglas equant be nominated, and secondly, if he is, that he cannot carry Illinois.

The southern delegates who are here declare that they will sustain the administration men from the north who have stood by there, and that they would be false to their own principles if they did not do so." Breckenridge and Guthrie seem to be the u.a t prominent candidates.

SLAVERY NOT LAWFUL IN NEW YORK .--The court of appeals of New York, before whom has been the famous Lemon case for some time, have affirmed the opinion of the supreme court, thus settling the principle that slaves cannot be taken into New York even temporarily by their masters. The owners of the Lemon slaves were paid for their "chattels" years ago, by voluntary sisted on continuing the litigation, in order to establish that her citizens may take and hold her slaves where they please. Thus far she has been unsuccessful, three adverse decisions having been given in succession. She now threatens to carry it to the supreme court of the United States, whose well known "Deed Scott" proclivities encourage the hope of a different result.—Chirmyo Jour

If that court should decide that slaves can be brought into the free states and kept there as long as the master pleases, we suppage it would be a proper question for the states to dec'de for themselves whether they would permit that court to spread slavery all over the country. These usurpations of the supreme court must be met somewhere, or liberty is but a name in this country.

Speech of Hon. Owen Lovejoy, of 111. DELIVERED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTA-TIVES APRIL 5TH, 1860.

ALAVERY QUESTION.

The Hause being in the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union. Mr. Lovejoy said: Mr. CHAIRMAN: The house has been occupied for several days in the discussion of the subject of polygumy. The republican party, of which I am a member, stands oledged to the extermination, so far as the federal government has the power, of the twin relies of barbarism, slavery and polyga-They have this power in the territories i of the United States. Now, sir, as we anticipate a death blow has been given to one of these twins, I propose to pay my respects to the other. vant to see them both strangled and go down together, as they both richly deserve.

Mr. Cobb-I rise to a question of order.

The Chairman-The gentleman will state is question of order.

Mr. Cobb-I was going to raise a ques tion of order upon the right of the gentle-man to discuss the question of the "twin under the new rule we have adopt-However, I will not interfere; the gentleman may go on with his speech. Mr. Lovejoy-I am entitled to the floor do not yield to the gentleman; and I wil proceed with my remarks within my hour, with the gentleman's permission, or with-

Mr. Stanton-I would be glad to know what is the understanding of the chair, and of the chairman of the committee of ways and means, as to what is to be the course of discussion upon this bill, whether the "twin relies" are in order or not, or whether the discussion is to be confined to the bill itself? The questions properly involved in the bill itself are sufficiently comprehensive, in my judgment, to command the entire attention of the committee, and I think we should confine the discussion strictly to it. When we are all in the committee of the whole on the state of the Union upon the President's message, the gentleman from Illinois will be strictly in order. I have no special interest about the matter except that, if the question is to be opened to this general discussion, I am afraid the whole time will be taken up with it, and the important subjects connected with the bill itself overlooked.

Mr. Sherman-I will state that as I waderstand it, the debate may be as general upon this hill in its present condition, as upon the President's message. It is within the power of the house, however, at any time to make the bill a special order, after which, lebate must be confined strictly to the quesion under consideration. If it be the pleasure of the house, I propose in the course of about a week to submit that motion to the

The Chairman-The chair supposes that general debate is in order upon this bill, the house now being in the committee of the whole on the state of the Union, and no special order pending.

Mr. Lovejoy-I was about to say, when interrupted, that I am aware that the practical question presented to this house and to the country, is, whether slavery shall be ex-tended beyond its present limits; as that is the only question over which they have excontented to remain restricted, and find its future where it now is, we might perhaps forbear this discussion. But when it is proposed to extend what is termed an institution-but what is not an institution : which is simply a practice—the question naturally France. The Sardinian parliament had fluences, and what are the elements of this practice? and what will the result prove to ! be it allowed expansion?

I am aware it has been stated upon this floor, that the morate of slavery is settled that they were settled ages ago by the Stagarite of Greece, and have been re-affirmed and reestablished by the chanticleer Solon of Ohio, in a rhetoric gorgeous as sunset's pay, slaveholding will go. Precisely upon the same principle we might say that where robbery will pay, pieacy will go: and where The northern delegates to Charlesfon all adipose human flesh is cheaper than that of beeves cannibalism will go, because it will pay. Sir, than robbery, than piracy, than olygany, slaveholding is worse-more quently more offensive to God, Shaveholding has been justly designated as the sum of all villary. Put every crime perpetrated among men into a moral crucible, and dissolve and combine them all, and has the violence of robbery.

A member-You are joking. Mr. Lovejoy-No, sir; I am speaking in lead enracst, before God, God's own truth. It has the violence of robbery, the blood and ruelty of piracy; it has the offensive and brutal lusts of polygamy, all combined and concentrated in itself, will aggravations that neither one of these crimes ever knew or dreamed of

Now, Mr. Chairman, the justification of slavery is placed, so far as I know, maiely upon these grounds; the inferiority of the enslayed race; the fact that enslaving men mparts Christianity and civilization to them; and thirdly, the guarantees of the constitution. These are the three main arguments presented to justify slavery, and consequentto justify its expansion. And, by the way I hold that the extreme mon, as they are called, on this question, are the quiy men who have the logic of it. I am right or the fire-caters are right. If slavery is right in Virginia, it is right in Kansas. If it is wrong in Kansas, it is wrong everywhere.

Now, sir, in regard to the first point—the inferiority of the enslaved race. We may concede it as a matter of fact that it is inferior : but does it follow, therefore, that i is right to enslave a man simply because he is inferior? This, to me, is a most abhorrent doctrine. It would place the weak everywhere at the mercy of the strong; it would place the poor at the mercy of the rich; it would place those that are deficient in intellect at the mercy of those that are gifted in mental endowments.

The principle of enslaving human beings because they are inferior is this: If a man is a cripple, trip him up; if he is old and weak, and bowed with the weight of years striké hím, for he cannot strike back; iotic, take advantage of him, and if a child, deenive him. This, sir, this is the doctrine of democrats and the doctrine of devils as well, and there is no place in the universe outside the five points of hell and the demperatic party where the practice and prevalence of such doctrines would not be a disgrace. [Laughter.] If the strong of the earth are to enslave the weak here, it would justify angels in enslaving men, because they are superior; and archangels in turn would be justified in subjugating those who are inferior in intellect and position, and ultimately it would transform Jehovah into in infinite Juggernaut, rolling the huge

New York, April 19. Tribune's Washington correspondence contains Mr. Buchanan's celebrated letter of July 12th, 1857, to Robert J. Mr. Buchanau says you may judge with what satisfaction we received an account of the proceedings of the national democratic convention on the 3d inst. The point of which your own success depends is the submission of the constitution to the people of Kansas, and by the people I mean and have no doubt you mean the actual bona fide residents who have been long enough in the territory to identify themselves with its fate. Mr. Lovejoy's Speech.

We think we cannot do a better thing, just now, than to publish the recent speech of Mr. Lovejoy, of Illinois. The Potter and Pryor affair has given it additional interest, although his bold utterance of anti-slavery trath in the house is sufficient to cause it to be received with satisfaction by our readers without any extraneous attraction. Such a speech was needed just now to dispel the conservative influences which were gather out it. ing around the republican party. It has that fire of enrnest enthusiasm in it which will warm the hearts of the people and prepare them to see and feel that an honest and bold policy in regard to national affairs is the best. We wish there were many more like Lovejoy in the house of representatives.

The many interruptions, and the insulting remarks of the slave drivers, will show what a northern man must expect, who we are all in the committee of the whole on speaks the whole truth in relation to slave the state of the Union upon the President's ry. It is a sample of the freedom of speech in our national house of representatives, and what will always take place as long as the power of slavery directs the destinies of the country. The republicans mean to drive taken up with it, and the important subjects this spirit from the halls of legislation, so connected with the bill itself overlooked.

Mr. Sherman—I will state that as I unthat the representatives of the people may legislate upon slavery, as upon any other question, without being compelled to endure such scenes. We earnestly entreatour read- the power of the house, however, at any time ers to give this speech a thorough perusal. It is suggestive of the contest upon which we are entering, which will require every republican to imitate the bravery, coolness and determination of Lovejoy.

Foreign News.

The steamship Arago has arrived from Southampton. Warrants have been issued against Heenan and Savers, and the magistrates are determined to prevent the fight. There is a revolutionary movement on foot in Spain. Gen. Otega, with 3000 men, proclaimed Don Carlos king. The English government will recognise the recent acquisitions of the king of Sardinia. Agricultural accounts from France are not favorable. Austria protests against the annexations in Italy. Switzerland also protests against the annexation of Savoy to France. The Sardinian parliament had been opened, and the king was received with great applause. He proclaims the doctrine that Italy must no longer be a field left open to foreign ambition, but must on the contrary be the Italy of Italians. The London corn market was steady at the last quotations. There had been some outbreaks in Switzerland against the trasfer of Savoy

Charleston Convention.

The northern delegates to Charlesfon all arrived at Washington on the 18th. There was, of course, great excitement. The Herald's Washington correspondent says that the two N. Y. delegations are pledged both for quently more offensive to God, and against Douglas. "If the south even suspects that the Cagger delegation will cast their vote for Douglas, they will vote in a body against their admission. Such instruction, it is said, have been sent from here by the leading southern senators and memhers to the various southern delegations .-This seems to indicate that under no circumstances will they submit to the nomination of Douglas, and vet, in face of this, men are betting on his nomination against the field, It is said the Massachusets delegation, who have heretofore been considered for Dougles, will vote against him from the jump .--This change has been produced since they arrived in Washington.

All sorts of betting is going on, but the heaviest is against Douglas, and his friends frequently become desperate and lose their temper, while the opponents of the 'Little Giant seem to be as happy as claims at high water. The contest between the two delegations from Illinois is quite amusing. The nationals, so called, clearly have the inside track, and bet their money, first that Douglas cannot be nominated, and secondly, if he is, that he cannot carry Illinois.

The southern delegates who are here declare that they will sustain the administration men from the north who have stood by them, and that they would be false to their own principles if they did not do so." Breckenridge and Guthrie seem to be the most prominent candidates. SLAVERY NOT LAWFUL IN NEW YORK.— The court of appeals of New York, before whom has been the famous Lemon case for some time, have affirmed the opinion of the supreme court, thus settling the principle that slaves cannot be taken into New York even temporarily by their masters. The owners of the Lemon slaves were paid for their "chattels" years ago, by voluntary subscription. But the state of Virginia insisted on continuing the litigation, in order to establish that her citizens may take and hold her slaves where they please. Thus far she has been unsuccessful, three adverse decisions having been given in succession She now threatens to carry it to the supreme court of the United States, whose well known "Dred Scott" proclivities encourage the hope of a different result.—Chicago Jour-

Speech of Hon. Owen Lovejoy, of Ill. DELIVERED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTA TIVES APRIL 5TH, 1860

the House being in the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, Mr. Lovejoy said:

Mr. CHAIRMAN: The house has been oc upied for several days in the discussion of the subject of polygamy. The republican party, of which I am a member, stands ledged to the extermination, so far as the federal government has the power, of the win relics of barbarism, slavery and polyga-They have this power in the territories my. They have this of the United States.

Now, sir, as we anticipate a death blow has been given to one of these twins, I propose to pay my respects to the other want to see them both strangled and go lown together, as they both richly deserve Mr. Cobb—I rise to a question of order.

The Chairman-The gentleman will state his question of order. Mr. Cobb—I was going to raise a question of order upon the right of the gentleman to discuss the question of the "twir relies," under the new rule we have adopt-However, I will not interfere; the gentleman may go on with his speech.

Mr. Lovejoy—I am entitled to the floor I do not yield to the gentleman; and I wil proceed with my remarks within my hour, with the gentleman's permission, or with-

Mr. Stanton-I would be glad to know what is the understanding of the chair, and of the chairman of the committee of ways and means, as to what is to be the course of discussion upon this bill, whether the "twin relies" are in order or not, or whether the discussion is to be confined to the bill itself? The questions properly involved in the bill itself are sufficiently comprehensive, in my judgment, to command the entire attention of the committee, and I think we should confine the discussion strictly to it. message, the gentleman from Illinois will be strictly in order. I have no special interest about the matter except that, if the question is to be opened to this general discussion, I am afraid the whole time will be derstand it, the debate may be as general upon this bill in its present condition, as upon the President's message. It is within to make the bill a special order, after which, debate must be confined strictly to the question under consideration. If it be the pleasure of the house, I propose in the course of about a week to submit that motion to the

The Chairman-The chair supposes that general debate is in order upon this bill, the louse now being in the committee of the whole on the state of the Union, and no special order pending.

Mr. Lovejoy—I was about to say, when interrupted, that I am aware that the practical question presented to this house and to the country, is, whether slavery shall be extended beyond its present limits; as that is the only question over which they have exclusive jurisdiction. And if slavery were contented to remain restricted, and find its future where it now is, we might perhaps forbear this discussion. But when it is pro posed to extend what is termed an institu ion-but what is not an institution; which is simply a practice—the question naturally arises, what is the nature, what are the in fluences, and what are the elements of this practice? and what will the result prove to be if allowed expansion?

I am aware it has been stated upon thi floor, that the morale of slavery is settled; that its ethics are no longer to be discussed that they were settled ages ago by the Stagarite of Greece, and have been re-affirmed and re established by the chanticles Solon of Ohio, in a rhetoric gorgeous as sunset's We are told that where slavery will pay, slaveholding will go. Precisely upon the same principle we might say that where robbery will pay, piracy will go; and where adipose human flesh is cheaper than that of beeves cannibalism will go, because it will pay. Sir, than robbery, than piracy, than polygamy, slaveholding is worse-more criminal, more injurious to man, and conse-

Slaveholding has been justly designated as the sum of all villany. Put every crime perpetrated among men into a moral cruci-ble, and dissolve and combine them all, and the resultant amalgam is slaveholding. It has the violence of robbery.

A member—You are joking.

Mr. Lovojoy—No, sir; I am speaking in dead cornest, before God. God's own truth. L has the violence of robbery, the blood and cruelty of piracy; it has the offensive and brutal lusts of polygamy, all combined and concentrated in itself, with aggravations that neither one of these crimes ever knew

Now, Mr. Chairman, the justification of slavery is placed, so far as I know, mainly upon these grounds; the inferiority of the enslaved race; the fact that enslaving men nparts Christianity and civilization to them; and thirdly, the guarantees of the constitu tion. These are the three main arguments presented to justify slavery, and consequently to justify its expansion. And, by the way If hold that the extreme men, as they are called, on this question, are the only men who have the logic of it. I am right or the fire-enters are right. If slavery is right in Virginia, it is right in Kansas. If it is wrong in Kansas, it is wrong everywhere.

Now, sir, in regard to the first point-the inferiority of the englaved race. We may concede it as a matter of fact that it is inferior: but does it follow, therefore, that it is right to enslave a man simply because he is inferior? This, to me, is a most abhorrent doctrine. It would place the weak everywhere at the mercy of the strong; it ould place the poor at the mercy of rich; it would place those that are deficient in intellect at the mercy of those that are gifted in mental endowments.

The principle of enslaving human beings because they are inferior is this: If a man is a cripple, trip him up; if he is old and weak, and bowed with the weight of years, strike him, for he cannot strike back; if idiotic, take advantage of him, and if a child, deceive him. This, sir, this is the doctrine of democrats and the doctrine of devils as well, and there is no place in the universe outside the five points of hell and the democratic party where the practice and prevalence of such doctrines would not be disgrace. [Laughter.] If the strong of the earth are to enslave the weak here, it would justify angels in custaving men, because they are superior; and archangels in turn would be justified in subjugating those who are inferior in intellect and position, and ultimately it would transform Jehovah into which it is attempted to justify slavery, or slaveholding, is, that it is a mode of impart ing Christianity and civilization to the slaves Mr. Chairman, I would like to know how slaveholding communities can impart that of which they are not in the possession? --The truth is, that the practice of slaveholding has a powerful tendency to drag communities back to barbarism. It is actually having that effect upon the slave states of this Union; and were it not for the Christian women that have gone from the free states and intermarried in the slave states; and were it not for those noble women of the slave states, that preserve womanly purity and Christianity, in spite of the unhap-py influences of slaveholding, the slave states o-day would be as far back in barbarism as the state of Mexico. It is simply from that infiltration-

Mr. Singleton-I wish to know if the gentleman intends to cast any insinuation slur on the women of the south. I want to know that distinctly and emphatically; because if he does, I will hold him personally accountable for it. Several members—Oh, no. He gives all praise to the women of the south. He compliments them. Mr. Singleton-I repeat, that if he intended to asperse southern women, or to compliment the women of the north at their exense, I will hold him accountable for it.

The Chairman—The gentleman from Mis sissippi is not in order. The gentleman om Illinois will proceed,
Mr. Lovejoy—It is simply by this contact with free communities; it is, as I said, from the fact that Christian women went from free states and that the Christian women of rose, which expands and fades away into slave states—who have not the poor privi-that of the lilly, her eyes sparkling like the slave states—who have not the poor privi-lege that Sarah of old had of sending the Hagars and Ishmaels to the wildernessmaintained their purity and Christian character, and their testimony against the system, that they were prevented from that retrocession towards burbarism. Several Members-That is what he said before,

Mr. Lovejoy—Sir, if you step into the Smithsonian Institute, or into the Patent Office, you will find implements of husbandy imported from Japan and China, showing just about the same development in civilization as the implements that you find on the plantations. Now, sir, the truth is, that the practice of slaveholding drags slavehold the civilization which the slave receievates him above the plane of heathenism by being held in these Christian communi-Sir, how do they impart civilization and Christianity? It is a strange mode of Christianizing a race to turn them over into bruteism without any legal marriage. Among the four million slaves in this country, there is not a single husband or wife. There is not legally a father or child. There is not a single home or hearthstone among these four million. And you propose to civilize and Christianize a people without giving them homes, without allowing them the con-jugal and purental relations sanctioned and protected by law.

Mr. Chairman, no community can make to order. I desire gentlemen of the house one step of progress in civilizing a race till you protect the sanctity of the home, as we held it should be protected in regard to these Mormons on the plains of Utab. Christian-izing them, siv? Christianizing them by a new process ? The slave states have a right to an exclusive patent for it. morning, with blood oozing from nose and ears. A Democratic Member—Where does that authority come from?

Mr. Lovejoy—I do not know whether religious rites were had or not. I suppose some pro-slavery priest was invited in to utter impious prayers before God that the last flagellation might have whipped in Christianity enough to save her precious and nev-

You say this is horrid. I know it is horrid to hold men in slavery. I know it is horrid to doom four million human beings to the condition of chattels, to be held pro nullis, pro mortuis, pro quardrupedis, taken for no persons, for dead persons, for four-footed beasts—men as much entitled to freedom as you and I. Sir, the testimony of all religious societies in the slave states is that the slaves are still heathen, and it is an utter impossibility to Christianize them and civilize them by this

The third point that is relied on to justify slaveholding is, that it is constitutionalthat it is guaranteed by the constitution of will be obliged to confess they are whipped the United States. Now, Mr. Chairman, I it is likely they will fall back on the original have heard it declared over and over again that the constitution guarantees slavery. I deny it. In no article, in no section, in no line, in no word, in no syllable, can there oe any recognition or sanction of human slavery found in the constitution of the United States. It is not there. It always recognizes human beings as persons, and never as property. It does not use the word slayer or "slayer." Why, sir, when I came up to take the oath to support the constitution, a whispered buzz, half in carnest and half jocular, passed round: "How can Lovejoy swear to support the constitu-tion? How can be take the oath? I could take the oath to support the constitution, pecause I believe in the constitution, because I hold to it, because my heart is loyal to it.

It is as vell known as any historical fact can be known, that the framers of the constitution so worded it as that it should never recognize the idea of slave property, from the beginning to the end of it. But the advocates of slavery have affirmed a strange doctrine in regard to the constitution -They think that because I swore to support the constitution, I swore to support the practice of slaveholding. Sir, slaveholding n Virginia is no more under the centrol or guarrantee of the constitution than slavery in Cuba or Brazil, or any other part of the world, is under the control or guarrantee of the constitution—not one particle. Mr. McClernand-I wish to ask the gentleman whether he has always held that the constitution deserved to be sustained and t be against the democrats, who pervert it or the disunionists, who trample on it. Mr. McClernand-If the gentleman says he never said so. I am not prepared to contradict him, for I know now nothing about it, personally; but I understood that the entleman once uttered this language:--

He is independent of the republicans, and he has not the slightest taint of republican-ism in his political principles. contains Mr. Buchanan's celebrated letter of July 12th, 1857, to Robert J. Walker, then governor of Kansas, with regard to the submission of the Lecompton constitution to the people of Kansas. Mr. Buchanan says you may judge with what satisfaction we received an account of the proceedings of the national democratic convention on the 3d inst. The point of which your own success depends is the submission of the constitution to the people of Kansas, and by the people I mean and have no doubt you mean the actual bonafide residents who have been long enough in the territory to identify themselves with its fate. We think it possible, and we may say probable, that the delegates from these states might name a candidate who would be so objectionable that he could not carry some of the states which are now considered reliably republican. LIFE INSURANCE.-Those desiring this safest and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It has already become, in reality, a state institution, having agents and patrons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is no longer a matter of doubt that life insurance can be conducted as well in Wisconsin as in Connecticut or any other eastern state.

Thus while duty demands that men should nsure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Non-Explosive Burning Fluid USED WITH SAFETY & ECONOMY.

The Best in the Market. Palmer's Drug and Tea Store.

We have, for several years past dealt largely in Nursing Fluild, and here always, thus far, kept fully up to the times, in any improvements made in its manufacture. Nearly a year ago, in an appeal in favor of its norre general use, based upon the fact that the raw material from which it is made, is mainly the product of our own farms, we publicly announced that there was, at the temperature at which it is generally used, "no explosive power whatever in Burning Fluid, as now made by those who understand the business in which they are engaged. That injury from its use was either the result of gross carelessness, or of undue alarm caused by a boiled in its explosive power," &c. Since then we have manufactured and sold thousand of galloos to consumers in this city and vicinity, and if our as sumption was an erroneous one, it would undoubtedly have been discovered are this.

We are propared to submit our Fluid to any test the public may call for, satisfied that, with ordinary care, no safer, better or more agreeable light can be produced. As we are indebted to no traveling "Prose Orekes—O" for the high state of perfection attained by us in its manufacture, we are, as mand, propared to ofter our Fluid at the LOWEST MARKET FIGURES, and to guarantee entire satisfaction in its use, or the money refunded.

For the Daily Gazette. MESSRS. EDITORS :-Please to permit me to correct an error, which you very inadvertly fell into in your article declining to publish my communication, signed "A Voice from Old Rock." You say that my article "censured very severely the republicans who voted for Dixon." This is an error. My article censured only those men who went luto the convention seeking a nomination, or participated in its action as delegates and then turned around and opposed the man who was fairly nominated. I flatter myself that I know the rights of citizens to the exercise of the elective franchise, and my own duties as a citizen too well to assume the exercise of a censorship over any man for the manner in which he may be disposed to vote. There is a wide difference I apprehend between censuring a man for voting, simply because he don't vote as I do; and calling upon members of my own over loss of Barley at 60a55c per 50 lb., for fiir and good. party to put the seal of condemnation on No change in other small. those who, because they or their particular friends were not nominated, bolt the ticket themselves and use all their influence, as and. party men and leaders, to induce others to bolt it also.

We concede that our statement covered too much ground, and that the correction made above is right and proper. We erred. however, as our correspondent says inadvertantly. However, we cannot see much difference between the delegates who participated in the convention, and the persons who sent them. They were both equally bound by the action of the convention, and equally guilty when they bolted. As long as a man professes to belong to a party organization he is bound in good faith to acquiesce in the will of the majority. If he refuses to do so, he should loose his position in that organization.—Eds. Gazette.

The Chicago Tribune says "that no man should be nominated [at the Chicago convention] who could not get votes enough to be elected, and that the question of fact involved in the proposition as applied to any single candidate, is to be determined mainly by the delegates from Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Il-

We think it possible, and we may say probable, that the delegates from these states might name a candidate who would be so objectionable that he could not carry some of the states which are now considered reliably republican. There is danger on both sides. There is a large class of voters who will not swallow too much conseravatism .--Let that be taken into account, also. The true policy is not to be afraid of the people, but to nominate the man who best represents the principles of the party. The masses of this country like bold and independent action, and abhor timid leaders. The history of the country will show this to be true.-The republican nomination for President should not be placed in such hands.

NEW YORK REPUBLICAN CONVENTION .-The republican state convention has elected the following delegates at large to the Chicago convention: Wm. M. Evarts, Preston King, Jno. L. Schoolcraft, Henry R. Selden. They are Seward men.

WE have, for several years past dealt largely in BURNING FLUID, and have always, thus fair, kept fully up to the thines, in any improvements made in its manufacture. Nearly a year ago, in an appeal in five or of its more general use, based upon the fact that the raw material from which it is made, is mainly the product of our own farms, we publicly amounced that there was, at the temperature at which it is generally used, "no explosive power whatever in Hunning Fluid, at more made by those who anderstand the business on which they are engaged. That injury from its use was either the result of gross carelessness, or of undue darm caused by a belief in its explosive power," Ke. Since then we have manufactured and sold thousand of gallons to consumers in this city and vicinity, and if our assumption was an erroneous one, it would undoubtedly have been discovered are this.

We are prepared to submit our Fluid to any test the public may call for, satisfied that, with ordinary care, no sofer, better or more agreeable light can be produced. As we are indebted to no traveling "PROF, GREEN—O" for the high state of perfection attained by as in its manufacture, we are, as usual, prepared to offer our Fluid at the LOWEST MARKET FIGURES, and to cuarantee entire scalingtion in its use, or the money refunded.
